DESCRIPTION

Cylindrical glazed ceramic pot designed by Suzanne Douly-Ramié for the Madoura workshop in Vallauris.

Crafted in glazed earthenware with mottled brown and green tones, it features a geometric relief decoration composed of rectangular reserves and vertical incised lines. This abstract composition, characteristic of Madoura's decorative research during the 1950s, highlights the richness of both material and glaze.

Impressed "Madoura Plein Feu" mark to the underside.
