DESCRIPTION

Filzka chaise longue designed by Borek Sipek and produced by Scarabas in the Netherlands around 1990.

It combines a black lacquered tubular metal frame with a removable red and black felt cover fastened with side snap buttons. The design explores the tension between structural rigidity and textile softness. With its curved lines and sculptural folds, the piece embodies Sipek's poetic and baroque vision within the European postmodern movement.

Manufacturer: Scarabas, Netherlands, circa 1990.
